Mi's Challenge Quest: a note for grown-ups

In the last lesson of the term we play Mi's Challenge Quest. Mi the dolphin swims to the Pearl Cave and meets 8 gates, each with a short puzzle, plus an optional secret cave. It takes about 20 minutes, straight after the break. Your child works on private paper with you (or a brother or sister) as quest partner. It is a game: nothing is added up, there is no league table and nobody is compared with anyone else. It helps us see what each child enjoyed and what to practise next. Term 3 goes beyond the school Primary 1 syllabus on purpose (odd and even numbers, the 3 and 4 tables, and stories about groups), so a few gates may be new.

Before the lesson

- We send you this note and the Quest Log a week before. Print the Quest Log at 100% (actual size, not fit to page). It has 4 pages. No printer? Tell us a week before and we will find another way.
- Keep the Quest Log folded or in an envelope until the tutor says to open it.
- Have a pencil, a rubber and a quiet table. Counters and fingers are fine.

During the quest

- Be the quest partner: sit beside your child. You may talk about how to start and ask 'how do you know?', but please do not give answers or hints.
- Skipping a gate is fine; Mi swims round it. If your child is upset, you may stop at any time.
- The paper stays flat on the table. Cameras may be on or off.

After the lesson: sending the Quest Log privately

- The same day, take ONE clear photo of each of the 4 pages: page flat, straight from above, the whole page in view. Make sure your child's name is on each page.
- Send the photos to the program's business WhatsApp, +65 9880 5962. Please send them to this number only: not to a tutor's own phone, not to the class chat, and never through a child.
- We use the photos only to write one line about your child. WhatsApp is a messaging service run by another company. We keep the photos for 90 days after the program ends, then delete them, as our privacy notice says.

What you get back. Within a few days we send you ONE line, written from our private notes, about what we saw your child do in the quest, with a small next step if it helps. It only describes what your child did, and it never compares children. If you would rather not play the quest, tell us: that is fine.
For example: In Mi's Challenge Quest, Mei drew a strip to find how many more marbles one child had.

Missed the lesson or need another time? The quest is not on the recording, but your child can play it at the make-up slot, before watching the recording.

Your child's paper, photos and note are treated as private: we never show them to other children or families, and we never compare children. Math Inquirers by Preciouslyours Pte Ltd.
