If your child misses a lesson

This note matches our terms (section on missed lessons). Nothing here changes them.

What happens

- Every lesson is recorded. After the lesson we send the private recording link to the families in your child's group on WhatsApp. Your child can watch it and do the lesson's workbook pages and online practice at home.
- The same lesson with a later class. If a seat is free in a later class of the same level (for example another group, or a holiday class), your child may attend that same lesson live. We cannot promise a seat: classes are small (up to 8). During the November beta there is one group per level, so for most families the recording is the make-up.
- There are no separate make-up lessons, and no refund for a lesson your child does not attend.
- School exams. A child who skips lessons during exams can use the recording and, if a seat is free, join the same lesson in another class or in a holiday class.

What to do

- Tell us on WhatsApp +65 9880 5962 before the lesson if you can. A short message is enough: child's name, level and which lesson.
- Watch the recording within [X days: owner to confirm] if you can. Recording links stop working 30 days after your group's last lesson, and the recordings are then deleted (see the privacy notice).
- Ask us about a seat in a later class on the same WhatsApp number. We will reply with what is free, or tell you plainly that there is none.
- If your child is stuck on workbook pages after watching, mark the page, take a photo, and send it to us on WhatsApp. We will give one short written hint. (Please send photos only to this business number.)

What is in a recording

The tutor, the shared lesson screen and anyone's voice that is unmuted. Children's cameras are not recorded, and children's names are not shown. Recordings are shared only with the enrolled families of the same group, through a private link, and never posted publicly. Please do not record or share them yourself.
